OLD GLORY AND VIRGINIA COLORS

Scenes in Connection With Graduation at The High School

MR. BRENT'S ADDRESS

Audience Singers Star-Spangled Banner at Close Amid the Greatest Enthusiasm

Upon a stage resplendent with the patriotic colors of "Old Glory" draped in the background and the colors of the cadet corps, the flag of Virginia and another flag of the United States, erected on either side, the thirteen graduates of the Alexandria High School went through the ceremonies of the fourth Alexandria High School graduation last night in the auditorium of the new building. The thirteen members of the graduating class of 1916 to whom diplomas were presented at last night's commencement as a reward of their four years of endeavor were, Ashby Edward Bladen, president of the class, James Judson Goodwin, jr., vice president, Roland Willard Gaines, secretary-treasurer, Miss Dorothy Marthina Callahan, Miss Mildred Roberta Callahan, Miss Anna Maria Hook, Miss Elizabeth Hantzmann, Miss Ruth St. Clair, Miss Louise Bender, Albert Vickers Bryan, William Louis Schafer, jr., Vernon Norwood Warfield, and James Morton Duncan, jr. The formal speech of presentation of the diplomas was made by the Rev. John Lee Allison, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, and the names of the graduates were read out by Captain William H. Sweeney, superintendent of schools.

Stanley G. Blanton, vice principal of the school, presided over the exercises in the absence of Conrad Johnson, the principal and the invocation was spoken by the Rev. J. W. Duffey, pastor of the M. E. Church South. The award of a prize for the best essay on poets of the nineteenth century, offered by C. T. Ryan, professor of English in the high school, was made by C. A. Burrus, principal of the Washington School for Boys, on behalf of Mr. Ryan, to Miss Dolly Callahan.

The salutatorian was Albert V. Bryan, and the valedictorian, Ashby E. Bladen. Commonwealth's Attorney Samuel G. Brent, made the address to the graduates. Among other things. Mr. Brent said that Alexandria had always been proud of her institutions of learning but that practically all of the private institutions had given away to the greater power of the public schools, and that with the advent of the Alexandria High School upon the local educational threshold, the enrollment of the schools in this city had been increased from about 1,200 to 1,960. The speaker spoke of the progress that had been made by the High School in its five years of existence, from the time when it was founded, with only a three years' course, with an enrollment of 88 pupils and four teachers to the present time, when the school is established on a firm footing, with a four-year course, a faculty of nine, more than two hundred pupils on its rolls, and a magnificient new building, for which the graduating class and every pupil in the school, he said, owed a debt of gratitude to the community, which it could never repay.

Mr. Brent ended with words of friendly advice to the members of the graduating class, his final statement being, "Be honest, be just, be true, and you will be successful."

Singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner," by the audience and the A. H. S. chorus brought the ceremonies to a close, Dr. Allison pronounced the benediction. The numbers on the program were interpersed with selections by the chorus, among them being the "Anvil Chorus," "Santa Lucia," and "Auld Lang Syne" Following the exercises an informal dance took place.

The motto of the graduating class, is "Be Square," the class flower, Killarney rose, and the class colors, Maroon and Gold.

At ten o'clock this morning. certificates of promotion were presented at the school to pupils of the first, second, and third years, who had made the required marks in their classes during the psst year. Members of the two cadet companies witnessed in uniform the presenting of a handsome gold medal to Adrian Katz, who was recently adjudged by competitive drill to be the best drilled cadet in the battalion. Rev. Edgar Carpenter made the presentation. Friday the two medals of the Literary Society were presented the medal for oratory going to Willard K. Blewett, '18, and that for debate being awarded to Elwin Brawner, '17.

The names of those appointed to be officers in the cadet corps for the session 1916-17, were read this morning by S. G. Blanton, vice-principal. The appointments are provisional, that is, if any of those appointed are not in the proper grade next session, the place is filled by another cadet. The commissioned officers must be mmbers of the fourth year, the sergeants of the third year, and the corporals of the second. Following are the appointments:

MARTIAL SPIRIT AGAIN IN THE AIR

Call to Arms Arouses Great Enthusiasm in Alexandria

RECRUITING GOES ON

Members of Light Infantry, Under Arms, Take Up Quarters in Their Armory on South Royal Street

The Alexandria Light Infantry armory on Royal street was the scene of busy activity all day yesterday and today. As soon as orders were received by Captain Conrad Johnson early yesterday morning for the mobilization of the company notices were sent to all of the men to gather at the armory where they were instructed relative to recruiting service an dsent out to try and secure the enlistmen of other men. A branch recruiting station was located at the corner of Washington and King streets and Dr. Walter A. Warfield, was on hand at the armory for the purpose of examining the candidates for enlistment.

Recruiting was brisk throughout the day, and this morning Captain Johnson stated that by tonight he expected to have the company organized at full war strength so that he would leave here for Richmond with 150 men.

The men slept in the armory last night and are being furnished their meals there. They expect to leave for Richmond within the next 48 hours and are hoping that they will be among the ones that are detailed for immediate service on te Mexican frontier.

Brigadier-General C. C. Vaughan, jr., commander of the First Brigade, Virginia Volunteers, was yesterday designated by Adjutant-General Sale to supervise the preparations for the mobilization camp to be established at the State Fair Grounds, in Richmond. General Vaughan will be in supreme authority at the camp, and will direct the mustering of the Virginia Volunteers into the United States for service on the Mexican frontier. He was ordered to report here on Thursday.

Entire reorganization of the Virginia Volunteers to comply with the provisions of the Hay-Chamberlain national defense act, recently passed by Congress, which, besides greatly increasing the militia forces in the United States, virtually places them on an equal footing with the regular army, answerable at any time to the call of the President to arms, will be necessary within a short time, if the men are to participate at Federal expense in the annual general encampment during August.

Adjutant-General Sale has already taken initial steps toward bringing his frces under the terms f the law having prepared and sent to the division of militia affairs for approval a new enlistment blank, which will be sent out as soon as possible to the various organizations, with instructions as to how they shall proceed.

Captain J. F. Bullit, of Big Stone Gap, one of the best known lawyers in the State, and a military man of experience, has made an exhaustive analysis of the law, and has given it as his opinion that, unless immediate qualification is made, the Virginia forces will not be able to get Federal pay for the annual summer encampment. Section 70 of the new act provides that all enlisted men shall sign a contract containing an obligation to defend the Constitution of the United States and obey the orders of the President. The contract under which serve the Virginia Volunteers does not place them under presidential authority.

Under the new law, Virginia will be entitled to 800 troops for each Congressman and Senator, making a total of 9,600, exclusive of commissioned officers, the whole to be made up within the next five years. Provision is made for the addition each year of 50 per cent of the number already enlisted.

With an enlistment of 3,600 men, the Virginia Volunteers have more than is required for the initial force. In fact, plans are already under way which may result in the elistment of several hundred men within the next few months.

Enlistment will be for a term of six years, three in the active organization and the remaining three years in the National Guard reserve. The reserve will be subject to call any time during the three years.

The following are striking excerpts from the law.

The discipline and training of the National Guard shall conform to the system prescribed for the regular army.

Each company is required to drill not less than forty-eight times each year for a period of not less than one and one half hours, and, also, to participate in encampments, etc., at least fifteen days during the year.

Officers and men while engaged in encampments shall receive the same pay as officers and men in the regular army.

Section 111 provides that when Congress shall have authorized the use of the armed forces of the United States, other than the regular army for any purpose, the President may draft the guard into the service of the United States. In such cases, officers of the guard are to be appointed by the President from officers of each organization of the guard.

GERMANS WILL FIGHT

Teutonic Residents of St. Louis Will Raise Regiment for War With Mexico

St. Louis, Mo., June 20—August J. Fertig announced yesterday that a regiment composed of German residents of St. Louis would be raised immediately for service on the border, or in Mexico, if needed. He said he had discussed the matter with representatives of the German-American organization and much enthusiasm had been manifested.

"We Germans want to refute the statement that we would not be ready to aid the United States whenever the call for military service should me made,' said Fertig, who served as a lieutenant in the German army.

Fertig declared that he had been offered $50,000 by a prominent St. Louisan with which to equip the regiment if it should be needed. He said a call for a general meeting at which volunteers will be enlisted will be issued within the next 24 hours. He said he did not anticipate any trouble in recruiting a full regiment of men who have seen service in the German army.

RICHMOND'S BLUE SUNDAY

From among more than ninety alleged violators of the Sunday "blue" laws, who were arraigned for hearing in Richmond yestrday, only six convictions were secured, the courts holding that fully 90 per cent of the persons arrested had been engaged in work of necessity. Several cases were continued, but the broad interpretation given the law by Police Justice Crutchfield leads most of those familiar with the situation to believe all of them will be held to have been engaged in necessary labor.

In the deferred class are both of the Sunday newspapers, the shop force of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, the Richmond Transfer Company, street car cleaners, A. E. Reynolds, a jitney chauffeur, and four Amenian confectioners, alleged to have closed their business on Saturday and to have kept open on Sunday.

Justice Crutchfield consumed little more than half an hour in disposing of the Sunday cases. He had before him about as many as were on the docket of the Police Court of Alexandria yesterday, when it took twenty-eight minutes to rule on them.

Austrian Armies Cut Off and Scattered in Their Retreat

Armies of Francis Joseph Must Fight or Force a General Retirement Before Czar's Troops

Petrograd, June 20. — Eighty thousand Austrian troops, retreating from the region of Czernowitz, have been cornered in Bukowina by the lightning drive of the Russian left wing.

The Russians are pressing the pursuit with the utmost vigor. A large part of the Austrian force in all probability will be surrounded. The others face the alternative of retreating through the Carpathian passes, abandoning their guns, or crossing into Roumania.

General Pflanzer, commanding the Austrians around Czernowitz, is retreating southward in the direction of the Sereth river with his beaten forces. How many Austrians escaped westward in the direction of Kuty, planning later to join Bothmer's army, is not yet known.

Petrograd, June 20—With an average Austrian retirement of 25 miles over the entire Volhynian and Galician front, except in the immediate region of Tarnopol, with the Russian seizure of Czernowitz and the flight of the southern Austrian Army toward the Carpathians and with the Russians closing in upon Lemberg from two directions, the operations on the southwestern front have reached the crucial point, where it is believed here the Austrian armies must either make a final stand or by their further retreat automatically compel a general retirement of the German Army positions which they have held against the Russians for nearly a year.

Such a stand, in the unanimous opinion of military officials here, will be an impossibility, as the separated Austrian armies are unable to communicate with each other and all available troops and reserves having been called up, a quick rehabilitation of the crippled armies of the Austrians is manifestly unlikely.

The prevailing confidence in the speedy consummation of a Russian triumph over Austria is reflected in all the comments of the newspapers. The Petrograd Gazette says: "The thought we have all lived with since the beginning of the war, a final victory over Austria, now is at hand. Soon the last notes of the swan song of the dual monarchy will be heard."

The Austrians are concentrating their forces in an attempt to ward off a Russian advance on Lemberg, but according to the latest dispatches the Russian troops pressing along the Dubno-Lemberg Railway, with Radiziviloff well in their rear, are close upon the Galician frontier town of Brody, which is nearly halfway of Lemberg.

The other Russian advance on Lemberg is being directed from a point north of Buczacz toward Halicz, from which latter town the road to Lemberg is an easy one and almost unfortified. The effect of the advance of these two lines is to place the Austrian centre near the Tarnopol extended position in great danger, and an Austrian collapse here is considered inevitable by the military observers.

The occupation of Czernowitz by the Russians has completely severed connections between the northern and southern armies. It also has enabled the Russians to establish direct connections from the frontier to Sniatyn by the shortest and most convenient route, which will greatly facilitate the Russian progress toward Kolomea, and, by obviating further the necessity of a turning movement, allow the Russian southern forces to advance solidly from the Czernowitz region westward.

According to Colonel Shumsky, the military critic of the Bourse Gazette the taking of Czernowitz means the Russian occupation of the whole Bukowina since there are no defensive lines on the way to the Carpathians.

Berlin, June 20—Heavy fighting is in progress between the Russian pushing toward Kovel and the Teutonic forces opposing them in the Stokhod-Styr sector, the War Office announced today. The Russian attack, says the statement, have been partly repulsed by means of successful counter attacks.

"DRY" CANDIDATE SLAIN

Militia Called Out to Protect Men Arrested After Murder of Alabama Judge

Huntsville, Ala., June 20—Two companies of the Alabama National Guard were sent here last night from neighboring towns to protect several persons arrested after the body of Judge W. T. Lawler, of the Madison County Probate Court, had been found today in a pool of water near here. One report tonight said the men arrested had been removed to other cities. The sheriff rfused to give his prisoners' names.

Judge Lawler had just been renominated on a dry ticket after a bitter political fight. News of the finding of his body with two bullet holes in the heart and the skull crushed caused a crowd to gather about the courthouse square, and while most of the people had gone to their homes tonight excitement still was high.

The three or four men arrested were described as men prominent in the community. Other arrests, it was said, would be made.

Judge Lawler, according to county officials, had an engagement Wednesday night to meet a political opponent at the Courthouse. Search was begun today on the theory that the probate judge had been kidnapped. His body was found in 15 feet of water weighted down with iron.

Investigation last night, and it was announced that Monday a new Grand Jury would be empannelled to investigate the affairs. It was said that gate the affair.

It was said that the investigation would include charges of election fraud made after the recent primary in which Judge Lawler was a candidate.

Machinery to Meet Eventualities Set in Motion by U. S.

SENDS A SHARP NOTE

Ultimatum Demanding Withdrawal of American Troops Flatly Rejected by Administration

Washington, June 20—All the machinery of Government has been set in motion for what appears to be inevitable war with Mexico.

The overwhelming mass of reports reaching the State and War Departments tend to show that Carranza is determined to force the United States to intervene.

The situation is such that the United States does not intend to force war on Mexico. The army and navy will make no aggressive move on Mexico territory, but the first attempt by Mexicans to attack the American forces or the first serious border raid will be the signal for an invasion of Mexico in force that will not be brought to a close until the United States has swept Mexico clean of its revolutionary factions and has set up stable government in that Republic.

President Wilson's first move in putting his new Mexican policy in force was to dispatch to Carranza today a lengthy note, rejecting flatly the demand for withdrawal of American troops.

Not only will this note be the last word to Carranza, but it will be backed up by the army the President is mobilizing for the Mexican campaign.

It will then be up Carranza to say whether the United States shall be given a free hand to exterminate the bandits which have menaced its border and repeatedly flaunted its authority, or whether by persisting in his attitude of stubborn resistance he shall force this nation into war.

Mexico City, June 20.—The Mexican capital awaiting today with tense interest the arrival of the American note. Arrangements have been made to flash a digest of its contents to all important cities of the republic as soon as it can be translated. Arrangements also are being made today for a special train to carry all Americans who choose to leave for Vera Cruz. It is estimated that between 600 and 700 Americans now are here.

Washington, June 20.—Work of getting the Fort Myer camp site ready for the District militia this afternoon was rushed by a large force of laborers, who were employed to assist Major Alfred Robbins and the quartermaster's department charged with this big task.

Every effort will be made to have the site in readiness for the militiamen this afternoon as originally planned, as Brigadier General Harvey and Col. Glendie B. Young want to get their men into the field at the earliest possible moment for seasoning.

Some interest has been caused in the announcement that every man in the District is subject to call for service with the militia. General Harvey says section 79 of the new army appropriation bill vests him with authority to draft on the citizenship of the District to recruit the militia up to war strength if sufficient men do not enlist.

BAZAAR OPENED.

A bazaar was opened last night at St. Joseph Hall, Columbus and Wythe streets. The hall has been attractively decorated for the affair and voices are being taken in a number of handsome and useful articles. It will be continued each night ending June 30.

PAID HIS LICENSE TAX

Attache of Crayon Firm, Minus City License, Brought Before Police Court Yesterday

There were no cases on the docket of the Police Court this morning. A special session was held yesterday afternoon at four o'clock when two cases were disposed of. Ocie Johnson, a young colored woman, living in the northeastern section of the city, was charged with robbing a man. The complainant failed to appear, and the woman having been given an unsavory reputation by the police, she was dismissed upon promising to shake the dust of Alexandria immediately. Another young colored woman, who appeared as a witness, who also bears a questionable reputation, was told if any further complaints were urged against her, she would spend the summer in the work house.

Charles M. J. Offen had been arrested on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses and with attempted intimidation. He was also charged with conducting business without a license. Offen is one of a gang who has given trouble in Alexandria for years. It appeared that a woman appeared in this city several months ago soliciting work upon lines of enlarging photographs. She stated that no charge would be made for the work, as the company she represented was endeavoring to advertise its business in Alexandria. She obtained an order from a lady, and later a man belonging to the same company appeared and managed to inveigle the Alexandria lady into signing a contract and paying $3 on a $6 picture. When the picture was finished it was brought to her, and it proving to be totally unsatisfactory, the lady refused to accept it. Offen then demanded three dollars the remainder of the bill under threats of prosecution.

As there was a business transaction between the parties, it was doubtful whether the penalty of the law could be exacted, and the case turned upon the charge that the firm represented by Offen had paid no license tax, although it had been conducting business here during the past half year.. Offen was told he would be required t pay $12.50 for that period. He insisted that he had transacted business but one day, and should be fined but $3. The court insisted upon $12.50 and Offen paid the bill.

ECHO OF THE 'BLUE LAW'

Visitors to This City in Autos on Sundays Will Not Be Molested.

There should be no need for the statement that persons who may visit Alexandria on Sundays in automobiles operated by their chauffeurs will not be subjected to any annoyance in connection with the present Sunday laws of the state. This community nor state has anything to do with people employed in other places on the first day of the week. Should such pass through our city their action would it is believed be rather an interesting matter, and would not be considered an infraction of our statutes and more than the procedures of operators of railway trains passing from one state to another.

The fact that there was a noticeable diminution of the number of other places in this city last Sunday shows that many are disposed to regard seriously what was stated in Washington papers last week which was a parody upon the law. Neither the state nor city authorities ever had any intention of placing a chauffeur de frinze around the Old Dominion on Sundays. The object of the law is to prevent the unnecessary conduct of business on Sundays, in order that both employees and employers may enjoy one day in the week as a holiday, that Sunday might not evolve into the busiest day of the seven. It was published from Dan to Beersheba last week that Sunday was to be observed in Virginia as it was in the days of Roger Williams, and that tourists should avoid our borders if they desired to keep out of trouble As was suggested in the Gazette last Saturday, we are still nursing injuries which resulted from the recent scarlet fever excitement in Alexandria. That cloud was rapidly passing away when the "blue law" was sprung upon us. We wonder if anything else is in their wake.

DEATH OF J. T. LAWLER

Well-Known Resident Passes Away Suddenly at His Home on South Washington Street

James T. Lawler, died suddenly at his residence 431 south Washington street, this morning. The deceased arose, as usual, but later returned to his bed, where his lifeless body was subsequently found. His death was the result of heart trouble. Arrangement for the funeral have not been made.

Deceased is survived by a widow (Mrs. Ida Lawler, daughter of T. Alton Moore,) and four children — two sons and two daughters.

Mr. Lawler was 44 years old. He was a son of the late Martin and Mary Lawler. In early life he was a clerk in the round house of the Southern Railway in this city, and for a time was employed at the store of the late Frank Hume, in Washington. He was later a conductor on the electric railway. At times he acted as judge of election in the Fourth ward.

Less than two months ago (April 24) Martin Lawler, father of the deceased, died. Long before the keen edge of that affliction had been blunted, the family is facing another bereavement. They have the sincere sympathy of their many friends and acquaintances in their dual sorrow.

ELECTION EXPENSES

RAISING THE WAKEFIELD.

River Steamer, tt is Expected, Will Be Floated Today.

The steamer Wakefield, of the Chesapeake and Potomac Stemboat Company, which struck a submerged pile at Mathias Point last week and sunk, will, it is believed, be floated some time this afternoon. The hole in her bow has been temporarily closed and the work of pumping is now in progress. The Wakefield will probably be towed to this port.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS CLOSE

Certificates of Promotion Awarded to Pupils Making Required Marks in Studies

All of the public schools of the city are now closed for the summer recess, closing exercises of the grammar grades taking place yesterday, when pupils who had made the required standing in their studies during the past session were granted cards of promotion. The first, second and third grades were not reopened after the temporary closing of the schools recently, but the older pupils went back to their work and their final examinations.

RATORY FOR HE FOURTH

It is suggested that there is nothing saner or safer in way of celebrating the glorious Fourth than patriotic oratory. This was part of the early idea as to how the great natal day of the republic should be observed. This is an era of pending readjustment in world affairs, not to mention the pending commotion in home politics. All America is just now in a listening attitude. An orator who has something to say that is wroth while saying will get a hearing on the coming Fourth.

This reminds us that we live in a day when "Americanism" confronts us more vividly than at any time since during the past three score years. In saying this we have no intention of affirming the principles of "knownothingism" which convaled the land in the days of our grandfathers, but to call attention to issues which are upon us at this day, when our country is about to pass through an exciting campaign.

The war against the use of explosives is still being waged in most parts of the country, and the people are gradually seeing the wisdom of enjoying the American holiday in a safe and sane manner. But there should be something to take the place of the explosives, and nothing could be more interesting and instructive than patriotic orations on Independence Day. Since the close of our civil war this custom has waned, due, of course, to the arrival in our country of people from all sections of the globe who could not be expected to be enthused by references to our history or the principles upon which our nation is founded. But many of such have long since entered the sere and yellow leaf stage, with children and grandchildren in our midst. Such should be taught the principles set forth by the land of their adoption, and their offspring should be made to realize that they are native and to the manner born.

In the olden time Fourth of july without patriotic orations would have been as Othello minus Othello. The same was the case with the twenty-second of February. The city now has a park, a site George Washington selected for the Acropolis of the New World. This is an ideal place for a Fourth of July celebration.

ENT FFRAGISTS.

The "walkless, talkless, golden day" of women at St. Louis was nothing new in the annals of woman suffrage. And it seems to have been genuinely effective—as anyone having masculine nature might have guessed beforehand.

The Democratic delegates marching to the convention hall had to walk a mile between two rows of women, all wearing yellow ribbons and carrying yellow parasols and—all silent. It was not a grim, defiant silence, either, but a cheerful silence eloquent with frank and friendly appeal. There was not even any flaunting of aggressive banners and mottoes. Those thousands of mute women did not demand the vote; they merely asked for it, humbly, in the traditional spirit of old-fashioned women-folk. It was modern woman voicing ultra modern demands, but doing so in the spirit and mien of her mild-mannered fore mothers. It was a deliberate experiment in the use of feminine gentleness on the hostile male.

And any philosophic student of human nature is forced to admire this bit of psychological strategy. Doesn't every philisopher know that woman's strength has always been in her weakness—that she has always been able to win man to her purpose far better by meek appeal than by volent assertion?

This is a truth which the British militants ignored, to their own cost. It is a truth which most American suffragists have felt instinctively, and have generally acted on. Even yet, however, our suffragists on the whole do not recognize the full import of the fact so strikingly illustrated at St. Louis.

Most of those who are unwilling to use threats in their propaganda still persist in arguing. And what woman ever persuaded a man in argument? The better the suffragists argue, the greater offense they commit. What man can endure that a woman should out-logic him?

The women at St. Louis were everlastingly right. Meekness is every game, in handling the illogical, egotistical and sentimental male sex. To the average man the strongest reason for giving women the ballot is, and always will be, simply that she wants it. And he only wants her to ask for it "nicely".

OUR WAR SACRIFICE STILL GREATEST.

Europe will undoubtedly be ruined by the war if it continues much longer. But it can stand a good deal of ruin yet before it has shot away as much of its human and material wealth as we destroyed in the civil war.

The direct cost for two years is figured at about $50,000,000,000. That is more than ten times as much as the immediate cost of the civil war to North and South together. But it isn't so great, considering the total wealth. The $4,000,000,000 or more that our great struggle cost was one fourth of the estimated wealth of the nation. The European belligerents have not yet spent anywhere near one-fourth of their resources. It will take them a year or two longer to reach that point. It would probably take them, on an average, three or four years more to arrive at the degree of exhaustion of the Confederacy when it finally gave up.

In men, too, Europe has not equalled our record. The civil war engaged, altogether about 8 per cent of our population. The European armies, vast as they are, appear to number no more than 4 per cent of the belligerent populations.

In other words, the sacrifices made thus far by European belligerents are only about half as great as those we made half a century ago.

NEED THE STRONG HAND.

(Baltimore American)

Meico is supposed to be a republic organized upon nearly the same constitutional scheme as the United States and sustained by much the same theories of popular representation in government. Popular government in Mexico has always been hypothetic, however; a matter of theory and not a matter of fact, Diaz, who developed a nominally republican form of government under which Meican resources were developed and a system of railroads created, as a matter of fact built up an autocracy—a scheme of class rule through the apportionment of public lands in immense holdings, instead of cutting the lands up into homesteads as was done in the western extension of the United States.

There is no such thing as educated or enlightened popular sentiment in Mexico exerting an influence in politics or shaping the trend of national policy as there is in the United States There is an educated class in Mexico which represents about twenty per cent. of the whole population. If as seems to be the case, the Mexican masses are inflamed in sentiment against the United States, their attitude of opposition is based upon a misapprehension of the policies and purposes of this country in dealing with Mexico. There have been many indications, however, that a large percentage of honest Mexicans of the peon class would welcome, if they the strong hand of the United States in putting things to rights below the Rio Grande.

could welcome without personal peril

There has been a large emigration from the United States to Mexico during the past twenty years, but the fact is generally overlooked that there has been an even larger flow of population during that period from Mexico to this country. Nearly 15,000 Mexicans came to the United States in 1914, over 12,000 in 1915 and a recently issued bulletin from the Immigration Bureau indicates that the immigration from Mexico during the firsthalf of the current year has been large.

NEWS OF THE DAY

The French losses around Verdun in killed and wounded up to June 5 munt o approximately 165,00. Losses have occurred on a front which is not more than thirteen miles in length.

After a conference at Oyster Bay, last night with Theodore Roosevelt, United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, declared that he believed the former President would support Charles E. Hughes in the forthcoming campaign

The death of Gen. Joseph S. Gallient, former minister of war of France, was due to a murderous attack by a French army officer of high rank under charges, of treason, and not to natural causes, according to stories told in New York by passengers arriving there from France.

The Spanish Press Association in Madrid yesterday received a cablegram sent on behalf of the Spanish colony in Mexico City, urging King Alfonso to take action to prevent war between the United States and Mexico. The selection of the King to arbitrate the differences between the countries is suggested, and the press association is requested to give its support to this project.

The administration yesterday arranged with congressional leaders to authorize the use of the organized militia as an offensive force on Mexican soil. Secretary Baker communicated to Chairman Hay, of the House military affairs committee, and Chairman Chamberlain, of the Senate committee, the desire for specific congressional action that would make clear the authority of the War Department to send the militiamen outside the borders of the United States and into Mexico. Congressional leaders express the opinion that the President already has authority to send the State troops into Mexico as a defensive measure.

It is learned that the administration contemplates a blockade of every Mexican port on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts within the next few days. This step will be taken to prevent arms, ammunition and other war supplies from reaching Mexican forces in the event that Carranza fails to yield completely to the United States and continues making threats and warlike demonstrations. With the border closed toghtly against all shipments of war material into Mexico and the ports blockaded, the de facto government would be completely shut off fro mevery source of supply, except through Guatemala and it is not believed that the government of that country would furnish arms to Carranza.

ALLEGED BLOT ON VIRGINIA

Professor Longacre Declares Men of Virginia Will Not Have Consciences Enslaved

Professor C. S. Longacre, national secretary of the Religious Liberty Association of America, told a large audience at the City Auditorium in Richmond Sunday afternoon in his lecture on 'Sunday Blue Laws,' that the efforts now being put forth to enforce such laws are but steps toward enacting legislation that would cause persecution among those who prefer to worship according to the dictates of their own conscience.

Professor Longacre reviewed the "ouster" act and declared that the Mayor is enforcing the Sunday laws, which have long since become obsolete in order that the people of Richmond might get a taste of what is going to be heaped upon them if they permit this present muzzling of their consciences without protesting and to arouse them to the dangers which threaten their liberties.

The lecturer reviewed the history of the "blue laws" from the days of Jay law, down to the present time, laying special stress upon the absurdities and strange opinions which were carried into effect during the Church dictated legislation. He said that he did not want it to be understood he did not believe in Sabbath observance.

He affirmed that the Sabbath ought to be observed with piety and the deepest conviction, but that the State is unable to supply these. He further said that the State has no right to enforce religious institutions upon any citizen, for, in so doing, it makes religious conduct involuntary, which is contrary to Gospel principles. These musty old "blue laws,' the speaker declared, ought to be repealed instead of enforced, as the American people will not submit to a rigid enforcement of the religious prohibition, which accounts for their remaining obsolete on the statute books for so many years.

He referred to George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Patrick Henry, James Madison and George Mason, all of Virginia, as real founders of religious liberty in America, and declared that the present movement to enslave the consciences of men in Virginia is a blot on the fair name of the State which gave birth to civil and religious liberty on June 12, 1776 when the Declaration of Rights was passed by the Virginia Assembly in Richmond.

GOSPEL TENT MEETINGS

Large Audience Hears Evangelist Gibson Last Night

"Where will God's people dwell throughout Eternity? On earth or in Heaven?" will be the subject discoursed upon by Evangelist F. E. Gibson tonight at the tent on north Washington street.

The destiny of Satan and the plan of salvation" was his theme last night. The speaker delivered an interesting sermon on the subject. He first said that Satan was at one time in heaven and was called Lucifer, son of the morning, as the prophet Isaiah said in the 12th chapter of his book; also in Luke's Gospel Christ said "I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven," and John in the Revelation, chapter 12, said there was war in heaven betwen Christ and his angels ant Satan and his angels, and, a result, Satan and his angels were cast out of heaven and are now at work in the earth. Peter says in his epistle that "our adversary, the devil as a roaring lion walketh about seeking whom he may devour," and that we need to watch and pray lest he deceive us and we close eternal life. The speaker said the day will soon come when Jesus Christ will destroy all sin and the devil who has led on in the work of deception.

Ten Thousand Persons Gather in Public Square in Mexico City

Mexico, City, June 20—The street and public squares of the capital were thronged all yesterday afternoon with patriotic paraders who marched to the various public officers led by bands and carrying the national emblem as evidence of their willingness to defend the country's honor and dignity in case of a foreign war.

More than 10,000 persons gathered in the great square bounded by the cathedral and municipal palaces, where they were addressed by Gen. Carranza, War Minister Obregon and other members of the government. Gen. Carranza told the throngs that Mexico was not seeking war but would not avoid it at the cost of national dignity.

A general exodus among the American colony has commenced and all who are able to do so are leaving for Vera Cruz or for border points.

During the demonstrations yesterday the American consulate was stoned.

HOPE FOR ROUMANIA'S AID

Paris, June 20—"What will Roumania do?" is the keynote and the headline on all comment in the morning newspapers on the capture of Czernowitz by the Russians. Although forecast some time ago, the news has been received with enthusiasm.

All the newspapers agree that the diplomatic results of the fall of Czernowitz far exceeds its strategical value. They point out that the city is the capital of Bukowina, the irredentist province of Roumania, which was promised to the latter country in the event of her joining the allies.

Bukowina has twice formed a part of Roumania and the possibility of its return to the kingdom for a third time has been eagerly seized upon by the leaders of the pro ally party in Roumania.

The interventionists have lost no time, and dispatches from Bucharest say that they opened a vigorous campaign Sunday and are confident that they will be able to bring Premier Bratiano over to their side.

YOUNG WOMAN SLAIN

Probably Shot As She Slept With Her Baby—Employer is Arrested.

Wildwood, N. J. June 20.—With a bullet through her heart, the body of Mrs. Laura Foster, was found in bed in the home of Dorris V. Cauley, a short distance from the railroad station in Peermont, Sunday night. She had been shot, it seemed, as she slept, and her 3 year old baby girl lay bathed in her blood and almost smothered. Cauley has been locked up on suspicion of killing the woman who had been his house-keeper for about two weeks. She was the divorced wife of an employee of a pound net fishery in this city. No motive for the supposed murder has been disclosed as yet.

Mrs. Foster was 30 years old and had formerly lived in Dennisville as Laura Camp. She married Foster about five years ago, but they did not get on well together, and a divorce finally resulted.

Prosecutor Carrow ordered the arrest of Cauley almost immediately upon the discovery of the crime, but he denied firing the shot. A revolver with one cartridge spent was found it is said, in his pocket and the front and one sleeve of his shirt were deeply stained with blood. He resisted all efforts to get him to make a statement.

Rebuilding Sale

NOW IN PROGRESS

Our entire 8th st. building has been torn down and in its stead a New 6 Story Steel Structure will be built. All the departments that were located there in have been moved to the front store. New Merchandise is coming in every day and we have no room for it consequently.

EXTRAORDINARY VALUES are being offered in every department throughout our establishment.

It will pay you to come from any distance to take advantage of the wonderful opportunities that are being offered.

MAIL ORDERS RECEIVE PROMPT ATTENTION.

"Chamberlain's Tablets Have Done Wonders for Me"

"I have been a sufferer from stomach trouble for a number of years and although I have used a great number of remedies recommended for my complaint, Chamberlain's Tablets are the first medicine that has given me positive and lasting relief,' writes Mrs. Anna Kadin, Spencerport, N. Y., "Chamberlain's Tablets have done wonders for me and I value them very highly." Obtainable everywhere.
